

Conjunctions

A conjunction is a word that connects two words or phrases together.

For Example: She is poor but polite.

Here word but is conjunction.

Some common conjunctions are: and, or, but, so, yet.

Q: Circle the conjunction in each sentence.

1. Nina will be late to work because she wakes up late.

2. We have cupcakes, cakes and biscuits for the bake sale.

3. He screams too loud, but no one hears him.

4. Do you want to sit in the front or back seat of the car?

5. Mina will go to the park or museum.

6. Jack was not well, but he won the race.

7. I had a toothache, so I visited the dentist.

8. Mother is tired, but she is still working.

