

Sparrow

Sparrows are very small birds. They have a stout body, covered with brown, black, and white feathers with round wings. They can build nests in small places easily. They eat grains and seeds, our discarded food, and insects.

